

There's no shortage of people willing to tell you what AI might do for dealerships. But at Digital Dealer Conference & Expo, we're asking you and your laptop one question:

WHAT CAN YOU DO WITH IT?

The AI Hackathon isn't another session about AI. You'll team up with other automotive professionals and build an AI-driven marketing campaign around a real dealership challenge, with experts there to guide you.

COMPETE

And walk away having actually learned the technology everyone else is talking about.

Hosted by Brent Wees, one of the most recognized voices in automotive digital marketing, it's designed to bring more of what's happening in automotive retail into the room. And make it useful.

The AI Hackathon is only available to Full Conference Pass holders, and space is limited.

Bring your laptop. We'll bring the challenge.
